Where Were You When Your Pilot Comrades Were Meeting Airline Representatives?

by Barbara Cima Nemeth

How long have you been looking for a pilot position? Too long? How many résumés have you sent out to airlines that have never been answered? Too Many? How much self-esteem have you lost waiting for that specific airline to offer you an interview? Too much? Then it's time for you to rethink your "don't need it" stance on attending an AIR, Inc. Career Day Seminar—and I have little inside information for you to ponder over.

AirTran held interviews May 3-4 at the AIR, Inc.

Atlanta offices and 100% of the pilots they interviewed were present for the Atlanta job fair. World Airways held interviews the first week of May and more than half the pilots Chief Pilot R.K. Smith interviewed had attended the Atlanta seminar held in April. For the first time since joining our seminars, JetBlue Director of Flight Operations Dean Melonas and Assistant recruiter Verna Kay accepted hand-delivered résumés in person from the more than 200 pilots who patiently waited in line to verbally profess their hiring qualifications. Still need more proof? Pinnacle Airlines held on-the-spot interviews for pilots interested in joining their team. Were you looking for a job as instructor pilot? Then you missed the opportunity to meet Donna Poling, CAE SimuFlite recruiter, and hand deliver your résumé over to her in person.

Are you still kicking yourself at this point? Continental made their first appearance in years. Chief of Pilot Recruitment K.D. Jost not only accepted every résumé that was handed to him, but took the time to individually speak with each pilot and ask specific qualification questions. America West was there again. Did you know that they deem attendance to be a plus when ruling out applicants to invite for interviews? FedEx and UPS were once again crowd pleasers and though the lines to meet their recruiting personnel were long, both cargo carriers kept accepting résumés until the last one was handed over.

Cathay Pacific is a new favorite among pilots seeking a position with a crew leasing company. They have pilot-pleasing pay scales and bases within the continental U.S. Newcomer and startup airline Atlantic Express was very pleased with the stack of résumés they received. Their B-757 operation not only flies international routes, but I heard first-hand that first officers may upgrade within two years and captains make $100,000 annually!

I could go on and on, but I bet you are getting tired of kicking yourself around. So let me give you some good news. It's not too late to become an AIR, Inc. Career Day graduate! The next seminar will be held June 17-19 in Miami.

Most pilots who have attended the AIR, Inc. Job Fair will tell you that it was an "edge" they had over other equally qualified pilots—an edge achieved by taking advantage of every opportunity available to make themselves more marketable to pilot recruiters. Where can you go to gain this formidable edge? Attend our next Career Day seminar and Job Fair. Not only will you have the opportunity to meet the recruiting staff from various airlines, but our seminar is informative and will help provide you with that "edge" you may lack. Becky Dean, AIR, Inc. Vice-president and published author, will offer a how-to workshop on Perfecting the Pilot Resume, Cover Letter and Employment Application and Interview Survival. Motivational guest speakers and workshop facilitators include AIR, Inc. President and Seminar Host Kit Darby, CRM Program Director Bud Williams and Aviation Consultant Jim A. Carman, offer a vast array of career enhancing skills teaching courses for Testing/Sim Check, Furlough Survival, Military-to-Airline Transition, Civilian-to-Airline Transition, and Crew Resource Management.

You have the choice: either regret missing out on the "edge" or you can pick up the phone, and take the first step towards your future career. The airlines are waiting to meet you, but you must first come to the mountain. ✪

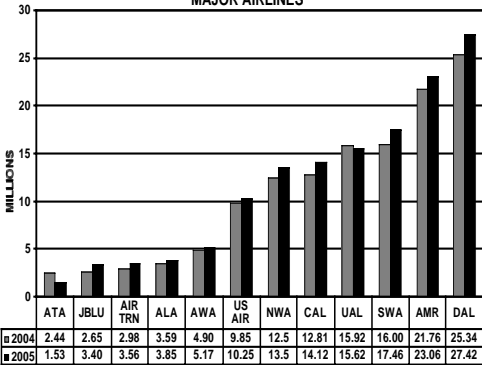

Note: Airlines in attendance for the Atlanta seminar included AirNet, America West, American Eagle, Ameriflite, Atlantic Express, ASA, CAE SimuFlite, Cathay Pacific, Colgan Air, Comair, CommutAir, FedEx, Gulfstream, JetBlue, Pinnacle, Skywest, UPS, Piedmont, PSA, USA Jet, World Airlines.
